GE Healthcare's Tom McGuinness says precision health is motivating the company's strategy for growth. Check out what he said here.

"What has been a priority, and where we've made a lot of progress in the last 12 to 18 months, is the way we view and the way we act around our role in enabling precision health – trying to help clinicians make the right decisions at the right time, for each and every patient. Precision health and precision medicine are terms that have been discussed often in the past 10-plus years, but I think in the last year or two, we've been looking at this as being at an inflection point for our customers." –Tom McGuinness, chief strategy and commercial officer, GE Healthcare
