

28 Mar 2018 | News

QUOTED. March 28, 2018. Jason Mehta.

by

Check out what former federal prosecutor Jason Mehta had to say about one of several novel elements of a recent $33.2m settlement between diagnostics company Alere and the US government.

"What the allegations suggest is that Alere was put on notice well before FDA issued a mandatory nationwide recall, and that makes this case somewhat qualitatively different from other recall cases." Jason Mehta, partner, Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP

- Find out more: Alere's \$33.2m Settlement May Reflect Growing US Fed Focus On Dx

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight