

26 Apr 2018 | News

QUOTED. April 26, 2018. Francine Lane.

by

Clinical-trial disclosure requirements can be a major complication for device firms. See what TrialScope VP Francine Lane has to say about it.

"One of the biggest challenges for any organization is conducting trials in more than one country due to the lack of uniformity for trial disclosure requirements. Trials are conducted in nearly every country, and more than 90 of them require data to be disclosed." – Francine Lane, VP of global transparency, TrialScope

- Find out more: Clinical Trial Sponsors Take Heed: Study Disclosure Rules Are Expanding

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight