Roche bought out Foundation Medicine in full. Check out what Datamonitor Health analyst Amanda Micklus says about how the deal fits with Roche's current M&A strategy.

"The Foundation deal seems a natural next step for Roche. It seems to be taking more of an open innovation approach, whereby [Foundation and Flatiron] are continuing to partner with others, even some of Roche's peers, to advance research projects." – Amanda Micklus, principal analyst, Datamonitor Healthcare
