The global insulin pump market is expected to see significant growth, reaching $5.1bn by 2023. A new Market Intel story looks at the competitive landscape of the three leading companies in this market, Medtronic, Insulet and Tandem Diabetes Care, which are all expected to launch new products in 2020. See what Viral Shah, an assistant professor of medicine and pediatrics at the University of Colorado, said about the diabetes market here.

"I have witnessed in the last three to four years drastic changes – changes from every angle – the industry, from the regulatory bodies, from the providers and the patients." – Viral Shah, assistant professor, University of Colorado
