

07 Apr 2021 | News

QUOTED. 7 April 2020. Luella Trickett.

by

The UK medtech industry is advocating reimbursement moves that could allow innovation to reach the market faster. Luella Trickett, director of value and access at the Association of British HealthTech Industries (ABHI), explained the need.

“That is our overwhelming problem with medtech: Is it producing system savings, or cash-releasing savings? The NHS always claims it doesn’t have the money today.” – Luella Trickett, director of value and access, ABHI

- Find out more: UK Medtechs Say Conditional Reimbursement Will Open Doors To Innovation Adoption

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight