MEDTECH INSIGHT

11 Oct 2021 | News

QUOTED. Matt Miksic.

by

Even as COVID-19 hospitalization rates are declining, expected staff shortages could force more hospitals to postpone surgeries and interventions in the coming months. See what Credit Suisse analyst Matt Miksic said about it here.

"The sustained high levels of concerns over staff shortages could be a potential risk to volumes in Q4 and 2022." – Matt Miksic, analyst, Credit Suisse

• Find out more: Hospital Staffing Shortages Could Impede Recovery Of Procedure Volumes

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight