CEOs of major medtechs Medtronic, BD, J&J/Ethicon, Edwards Lifesciences, Stryker and Olympus Corp. discuss how the pandemic has shaken up the industry and redefined their companies' strategies from supply chain and digital uptake to ambulatory and at-home care. See what Medtronic's CEO Geoff Martha said about it here.

“We’ve seen more innovation right now than at least I’ve seen in the last 20 or 30 years,” marking opportunity for medtech to “move up in the food chain, ahead of pharma.” – Geoff Martha, CEO, Medtronic
